

Programming your new remote

These remotes use DIP switch type security coding and have binary switches inside to set the security code, to program an additional transmitter the switches in the new transmitter should be set to the same sequence as an existing working remote.

"If you need help give us a call on 01302 700650"